Name of Student: [redacted]

This form indicates the competencies that the student is expected to demonstrate. It does not constitute an outline for the presentation itself.
1 = poor (inadequate); 2 = fair (weak, somewhat deficient); 3 = satisfactory (competent); 4 = very good (above average); 5 = outstanding (exceptional)

1. The student presents his/her own formulation/conceptualization of important aspects of the case and justifies it based on theory and research from the literature and on case data.

Includes aspects of the following: diagnosis, assessment, etiology, strengths, environmental and cultural considerations, treatment, and evaluation of treatment effectiveness	1	2	3	4	5x
Case formulation is appropriate to and is consistent with the case data	1	2	3	4x	5
Demonstrates broad knowledge of the theoretical and empirical counseling literature relevant to the conceptualization	1	2	3	4	5x
Demonstrates an integrative and critical understanding of the theoretical and empirical counseling literature (i.e., formulates the current state of relevant knowledge and attends to issues of validity and generalizability based on methodology)	1	2	3	4	5x
Appropriately applies conclusions to understanding the case and to support the formulation	1	2	3	4x	5
Appropriately qualifies conclusions and recommendations	1	2	3	4x	5

2. The student engages in a dialogue with faculty committee during the case presentation.

Understands questions posed	1	2	3x	4	5
Responds to questions using a conceptual framework and empirical evidence	1	2	3	4x	5
Takes a position, gives professional opinion	1	2	3x	4	5
Demonstrates independent thinking	1	2	3	4x	5
Considers alternatives	1	2	3	4x	5

Additional Comments related to KPIs:

II. Professional Dispositions & Communication

Indicate whether or not there is a concern about this student in the following areas by placing an X in the associated column:

Evaluation Areas	Concern	No Concern
Class Participation (Communication of Learning, Interactions, Attendance/Tardiness)		X
Professional Dispositions related to Interpersonal Functioning (Interpersonal Integrity, Interpersonal Communication Skills, Interpersonal Openness)		X
Professional Dispositions related to Professional Growth (Review faculty and site supervisor evaluations from practicum and internships)		X
Documentation (Written Work) (Communication of Learning, Technical Requirements, Time Management)		X

Comments: No concerns.

III. PhD Domains of Competence

Please rate the student on the following competencies using this scale:

- 1 = Development lags expectations, remedial action required
- 2 = Development lags expectations, address within advisor supervision
- 3 = Developing as expected towards basic competency
- 4 = Achieved basic competency
- 5 = Achieved advanced competency
- NA = Not Applicable
- UJ = Unable to judge

VI. Summary and Recommendations

a. Comments related to student's strengths and areas in need of further development:

Gigi is a strong student. She demonstrates strong skills in supervision and is gaining valuable experience teaching online courses while preparing a new trauma-focused undergraduate class for the fall. She is an active contributor to Ditchman lab and group research efforts. She will continue building her teaching experience and begin refining her dissertation idea over the next year. While she presents regularly, a key goal for the coming year will be to increase publications to further strengthen her CV.

Description of findings

The Division of Counseling and Rehabilitation Science (DCRS) faculty conducted their annual student evaluation and reviewed program evaluation data on June 2, 2025 at the DCRS Summer Retreat. In addition to this, DCRS faculty participate in biweekly program meetings to address and exchange feedback on student progress in the program. In this way, student academic performance can be addressed immediately, during division meetings and with instructors and/or academic advisors (as appropriate). Student performance is reviewed in all key performance areas outlined for doctoral-level performance, including academic performance, teaching, research, counseling, supervision, and leadership/advocacy. This information is also reviewed annually at the fall DCRS Advisory Board Meeting (10/10/2025).

Overall, RCE faculty members report being highly impressed with the performance of the current RCE doctoral students. Nine of the nine students have consistently received excellent grades in their coursework, which is consistent with the previous year's performance and expectation. Students enrolled in internship experiences all obtained exceedingly favorable evaluations of performance in their experiences, which demonstrates the ability to generalize didactic learning into the field as it relates to teaching, clinical supervision, and research.

Additionally, RCE students have continued to be very active in a variety of research and grant writing projects, and/or have participated in externally funded grant research. Our doctoral students have regularly submitted publications to peer-review journals and presented at national conferences, which is impressive as over half of our students are working professionals, meaning that in addition to their doctoral studies they maintain full-time employment. Advisors work closely with their students every year to ensure that they are involved in research, publication and presentations, so that they will be highly competitive in these areas upon graduation. The exceptional skills/abilities that they are gaining in this program are critical to the role of rehabilitation counselor educators. These students are highly productive and motivated, and will be very marketable upon graduation.

There was one RCE graduate during the 2024-2025 academic year. This student indicated a high level of satisfaction with training as well as identity consistent with rehabilitation counseling education. This student is currently employed as the Director of Vocational Services at New Connections Academy. Our previous graduates continue to be employed in university settings as either Rehabilitation Counselor Educators or Directors of Disability Services Offices. The RCE faculty continue to be highly focused on recruitment endeavors with the goal of increasing the RCE student body over the next few years. The goal is to bring in 3-4 new students each year. Faculty advisors will be working closely with our senior-level doctoral students who are ABD, in order to assist them in working toward graduation.

The RCE Program continues to be accreditation by the Council on the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Programs (CACREP) through October 31, 2032. The program is required to maintain a high level of standards in order to meet accreditation regulations. For this reason, we do not plan to make any changes to our program goals at this time.

In summary, the DCRS faculty and Advisory Board were in agreement that the program objectives are being well met and RCE students are progressing at an above-average rate in relation to skill development in the areas of teaching, counseling, research, clinical supervision, and leadership/advocacy.

Continuous Improvement, CI, plans

None at this time. The Rehabilitation Counseling Education program is fully accredited by CACREP through October 31, 2032. We will continue to closely monitor learning goals over the next few years, as the program continues to grow.

This cycle's CI plan

Describe any CI plans developed from this cycle's data, as well as the strategy developed to implement these plans.

☒ After consideration and presentation to the program authority, no CI plans are recommended. However, next year we will cut down the number of indicators for evaluation.

Summer Planning Retreat Agenda

June 2, 2025 10:00 – 2:00 p.m.

The Center's Conference Room

1) Student Issues

- Faculty discussed RM & CH (internship status), and funding needs for incoming students
- Concerns re: number of incoming students due to visa issues

2) Comps Questions & Procedure Changes

- Discussed possibility of returning to in-person written comps, or ways that may be more accommodating to student needs (example, students with small children). Desire to continue with consistency for all students, as well as a focus on how to manage AI changes (ex. chatGPT).

3) Clinical Fieldwork Discussion

a) Site Establishment

- Concerns raised regarding how students communicate acceptance of sites, as several student have back out at the last minute leaving sites hanging. New rules regarding this, especially as it relates to professional dispositions.

b) Practicum – hours/direct client hours

- Discussion raised about lowering the number of required direct client hours from 60 to 40 (which is the CACREP minimum). The majority of faculty were against this; it will remain at 60.

c) Digital Management of Clinical Fieldwork Paperwork

- Discussed need for movement to digital file-keeping and standardized signatures on ppw.

4) Programmatic Changes

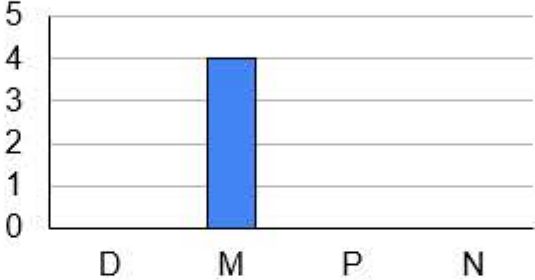

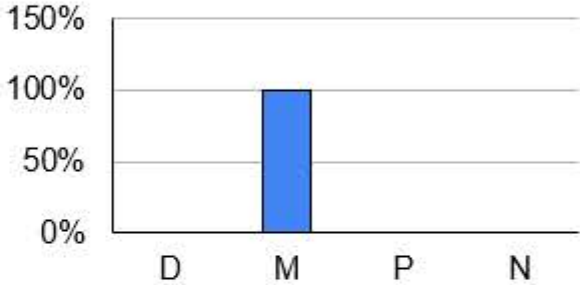

a) MS: Elective Option

- Began discussion on changes to MS tracks to include more coursework on MFT and working with children. Concerns re: going to an elective process, due to the need to make load (minimum of 10 students per class), which is the university requirement. Discussed reduction or rehab-centric courses (combining RET and Med Aspects) to add in a new MFT course. Possible reduction of research classes from 2 to 1 as well.

b) PhD: Generalizing the Program

- Began discussion of steps to move the RCE program to a general Counselor Education program, in order to increase recruitment opportunity. Will look into requirements per CACREP.

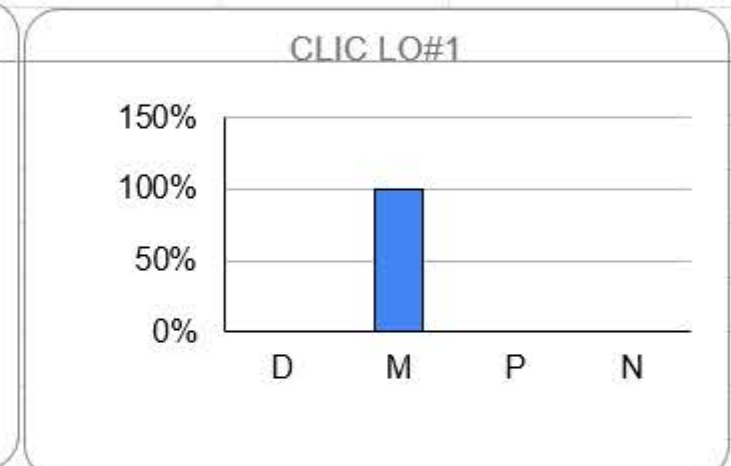

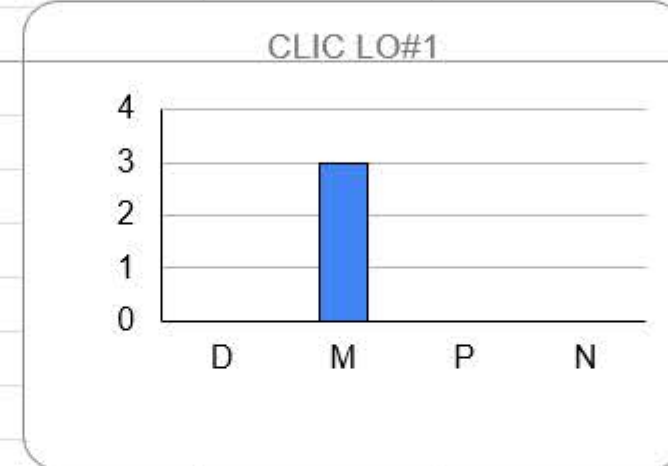

- 5) Incoming Class and Fall Orientation (August 15, 2025 from 10 am – 12 pm, Psychology Classroom)
- 6) Program Evaluation – 2024-2025 (SEE PAGE 2-3)
 - Reviewed PE data for the past year and discussed need for artifact data. Faculty began adding in their data and reviewing status.
- 7) Student Evaluation
 - a) Doctoral Students
 - Completed review of doctoral students – no issues/concerns
 - b) M.S. Students
 - Completed review of MS students – areas of concern (CH) passed to advisors
