Description of findings

- We find evidence that overall learning objectives are well achieved.

Continuous Improvement, CI, plans

Prior CI plan impact

Previous CI item	Impact of the previous CI item
The instructor will highlight the importance of questions and answers (Q&A) in a presentation to increase the 'Response to Questions (if applicable)' score of oral communication skills (average 1.00/3.00).	Due to the class being too large, the Q&A portion of the presentation was removed. So, the Q&A part was not assessed. However, the instructor highlighted the importance of Q&A.
In the fall of 2023, the BS-BA program evolved into several programs: BS in Business Administration, BS in Finance, BS in Financial Economics, BA in Marketing Analytics, and 8 Tech+ programs. As these programs are reaching critical mass in a few years, we should assess them efficiently. Learning objectives and curriculum maps are already available. The courses to be used for assessment have already been identified. Because multiple programs share the same courses for evaluation, using Canvas will not be optimal. We may need to be prepared to use spreadsheets for those. Additionally, the course contents should preemptively reflect the assessment plan.	BUS 480 is shared by two programs' assessments – BSBA and BSFINA. We started assessing BS-FINA
We will provide more artifact samples. In the 2023-2024 cycle, we couldn't do so because Blackboard does not give them.	We provide artifact samples for all learning objectives

This cycle's CI plan

- We plan to simplify the common goal further, as the dean of the Stuart School of Business planned.
- We plan to stagger assessment of all required courses at least once every 5 years.
- We plan to help students briefly write theoretical support when writing business-related writing.
